QUESTION:

Why should some people pay for those who NEVER PAY?

ANSWER:

Our Answer is they should not. The Hard Cash paid by you Business Directory to the Merchant who does a Credit Business, surely pays or helps to pay for goods that other people are wearing.

The Merchant who pays CASH down for his purchases and sells strictly for CASH, undoubtedly is in a position to undersell all CREDIT-buying or CREDITselling Establishments.

There is ground for believing that this is the beginning of a sary to take for his safety conclusively drain of gold which may become a serious matter. In the present case the demand has no doubt arisen directly from the French financial stringency, which acts upon the New York money market through that of London. It happens, however, that the state of trade and of the exchanges in the United States at this time favors the new conditions which are being set up, and this state of trade is due largely if not altogether to the fiscal and financial policy of our own Government. Speculation in products has no doubt operated to weaken the markets, and it is significant that this is one of the agencies which the journalistic cappers for the gamblers of San Francisco are just now coast. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE RAIN IN 1850.

The record of rainfall for 1849 and 1850, as published in a recent table given in this paper, is taken from the figures and observations of the late of the tions of the late Dr. T. M. Logan. Dr. Logan himself was compelled to rely upon insufficient data for some of the earlier months, for in the first days of the settlement of California, after the discovery of evidence to satisfy them that he was in the gold, no meteorological records were kept.

C. B. Porter, of Martinez, a well-informed of John W. Greenlaw, of this city, who, Californian, referring to the recent publication of the rain table in this journal, says that it was an error to give the month of September, 1850, credit for no rainfall. It is desirable to have as full and correct information on such matters as it is possible to obdesirable to have as turn and to be to obtion on such matters as it is possible to obtain. Mr. Porter says: The river miners all Eggleston nor any member of his family. He is the first to have as turn and the same to have seen that the same transfer of the same along the slope of the Sierra range, from Siskiyou to the Tuolumne, remember how the Siskiyou to the Tuolumne, remember how the floods of that month swept away their dams and washed them out of the river bed claims they were just then about ready to begin taking their anticipated gold piles from. taking their anticipated gold piles from.

But I know it did, very briskly, one Sunday evening in that month while I stood who have faith in Dr. Logan's frest class hotel in that place. Green-law went to the same hotel, registered as Robert James, represented himself to be a capitalist who was visiting themself to be a that month, while I stood under the awning of one of the J-street gambling salons, in conversation with Ira D. I had come down the river with a companion from Knight's Landing in a companion from Knight's Landing in a street, north side, probably between Second and Third. I had come down the river with a companion from Knight's Landing in a small boat, having footed it to that point from the Big Bar of Trinity river, and experienced several soaking showers on the road between the present site of Tehama and road between the present site of Tehama and Knight's Landing, I accepted my friend Root's invitation to lodge at the police sta-tion in preference to exposure to the rain in our open boat. I presume there are many residents of your city who have not forgotten the heavy September rain of that year, and who have often wondered with me that Dr. Logan should have made no note of it. From ection, I should judge that the measure of rainfall that September afternoon and night at Sacramento could not have been less than half an inch, and was possibly near

WASHINGTON, February 1st.

I deem it due to justice to make a brief statement which I ask you to transmit to the papers of your Association to-night. On Monday morning last, January 80th, I addressed the following note to the President of the United States:

"My Dear Mr. President: As Mr. Frelinghuysen has made mention of the proposed Congress of the state of the United States."

"My Dear Mr. President: As Mr. Frelinghuysen has made mention of the proposed Congress of the Interior was not sent in to-day, as originally intended, for the reason mainly that the Sobrated Sargent, of course, is not willing to have it left over for his decision, as he has been and has made mention of the proposed Congress of American nations in a dispatch which he has made American nations in a dispatch which he has made public, and the designs of that Congress are greatly misunderstood and misrepresented both at home and in Europe, I respectfully ask that you will direct the publication of the original invitation. I have the original draft myself, but of course I do not feel the original draft myself, but of course I do not feel wishes of the sort which does not admit of business of the sort which does not admit of the original data myses, dutof course I do not leave at liberty to use it without your permission. Yesterday I received a message from the Chief Clerk of the State Department that Mr. Frelinghaysen would publish the dispatch when called for by Congress. This morning I wrote a note to Senator Windom, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, asking that he would introduce a resolution calling for the correspondence. When the New York papers came, I found the document, though with many errors, published in the New York Herald. I understand that it has been published in one paper in each of the several large cities. The dispatch was obtained surreptitiously, from whom or by whom I do not know. It was no from whom or by whom I do not know. It was no doubt a hastened, partial publication, in order to deprive me of the wide advantages of the Associated Press, which I was anxious to secure for it, in order that the misr-presentations concerning the invitathat the misr-presentations concerning the invita-tion to the Peace Congress might be definitely cor-ported. DEPARTMENT OF STATE, \\

WASHINGTON, November 29, 1881. \\
Sir: The attitude of the United States with respect to the question of general peace on the American Continent is well known through its persistent efforts for years past to avert the evils of warfare, or, these efforts failing, to bring positive conflicts to an end through pacific counsels or the advoncy of impartial arbitration. This attitude has been constantly maintained, and always with such fairness as to leave no room for impugning to our Government any motive except the humane and disinterested one of saving kindred States of the American Continent from the burdens of war. The position of the United States as the leading power of the new world might well give its Government a claim to authoritative utterance for the purpose of quieting discord among its give its Government a claim to authoritative utterance for the purpose of quieting discord among its neighbors, with all of whom the most friendly relations exist, nevertheless the good offices of this Government are not, and have not at any time been tendered with a shew of dictation or compulsion, b. t. only as exhibiting the solicitous good will of a common friend. For some years past a growing disposition has been manifested by certain States of Central and South America to refer disputes affecting great questions of international relationship and boundaries to arbitration rather than to the sword. It has been on several such occasions Alfred Tempons was not present, but a great dispersion has been manifested by certified and South American powers as their friend am finding the manifest of the missing parties. ANOTHER INTERESTING YEAR FOR STAR-GAZERS

ogers' year, owing to the great conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn, upon which so many frightful prophecies were based, 1882 will be in a similar sense the astronomers' year on account of the transit of Venus. The transit does not occur until December, but the astronomers are already preparing for their observations of it. In fact, they began their preparations more than twenty-five years ago-so important is this event to astronomical science. By the transit of Venus is meant the passage of that planet between the earth and sun, so that the planet is seen against the disk of the sun like a black dot. It owes its importance to the fact that it furnishes perhaps the best means of measure the distance between the earth and the sun, and this distance is the astronomer's yard-stick, without which he cannot get along. The more accurately the sun's distance is known the more correctly become other astronomical measurements. Modern estimates this distance have varied between 95,600,-000 miles and 91,000,000 miles. Since the transit of 1874 it has been put at 92 800,-000 miles, but the astronomers think they are yet one or two hundred thousand miles out of the way, and this year they hope to cut these limits of error down very much. The results they achieve must stand for more than a century, since there will not be another transit of Venus until 2004.

There will be the usual number of con junctions of the moon with the various value to the astronomer, these conjunctions are interesting and often beautiful phenomena, and they serve to point out the planets to those who otherwise might be unable to identify the earth's sister worlds among the stars. There will be a few rather close conjunctions between some of the planets, and Jupiter, Saturn and Mars will be conspicuous in the evening sky during the winter and spring, offering fine opportunities for observation to those who possess telescopes. put in an appearance. As some astronomers think that the last comet discovered in 1881 may be the least least 1 and 1881 may be the least 1 and 1881 in 1881 may be the long lost Lexell's comet, which nobody expected to see again after police and firemen, that the less of life by the o'd World building fire will not exceed six or Jupiter kicked it out as an intruder in his family moons, it may not be too much to hope that the stupendous comet of 1264, which is now more than twenty years overdue, will also pay the sun another visit glories of its train.

The period of disturbance in the sun has not yet reached its hight, and the great central luminary may be. expected to furnish interesting scenes for those who delight to gaze through telescopes at the wonderful things that exist outside the earth .-New York Sun.

THE CEDARS OF LEBANON.—Measures General Agents Sacramento Division, No. 61 J street, ave been taken by Rustem Pasha, Govhave been taken by Rustem Pasha, Governor-General of Mount Lebanon, for the preservation of the cedars. The Governor-General has caused to be built round the trees a walled inclosure, in charge of a custodian, whose duty it will be to see that the regulations are carried out. Visitors of all nationalities will be allowed as heretofore access to the cedars, but will only be permitted to set up tents outside the inclosure, at places specially designed for the purpose. Fires will not be allowed near the trees, the necessity of this rule having within the last few years been demonstrated by the fact that three of the largest cedars have been partially destroyed by fires, owing to carelessness of bury, Sir Alexander T. Galt, Canons Farrar and Morely. Several members of the Rothschild family, and all the leading Israelites of the city, attended the meeting.
